Information & Resources

You can find the information you need in our library, one of the most extensive workplace health and safety print libraries in western Canada. Use our library computer to search online for the latest research and reports.

Our library is open to the public
Monday to Friday 9 am to 5 pm.

The Centre has over 40 fact sheets on a wide range of workplace health and safety issues. Some fact sheets are available in Chinese, Portuguese, Somali, Spanish, Vietnamese, French, Punjabi and Tagalog.

We also organize regular public presentations on a variety of health and safety topics.

Check out our website for electronic versions of our fact sheets, upcoming public presentations and other information at www.mflohc.mb.ca

Who Are We?

The MFL Occupational Health Centre is a community health centre specializing in work related injuries and diseases. We are a non-profit, charitable organization funded by the Winnipeg Regional Health Authority and by donations from individuals, and unions. We are committed to working with all Manitobans who are interested in creating safer and healthier workplaces.

Medical services

Our doctors are specialists in occupational medicine and can help you find out if your job is making you sick. This makes it possible to

- treat the problem properly
- prevent the problem from happening again
- protect other workers
- collect workers' compensation

To make a confidential appointment call 949-0811 or 1-888-843-1229. You do not need a referral.

Workplace Services

Our team of occupational health specialists work with joint workplace health and safety committees or other
